"Kittypet"

Sandpaw pov

It was just after Rusty a.k.a Firestar wrecked Longtail, Bluestar said: "This collar represents your imprisonment, it has now broken, now I say before Starclan, From now on you are known as Firepaw, I myself will be your mentor, and Whitestorm and Lionheart will bring you up to date, dismissed." Sandpaw looked at Firepaw just as a ray of sunlight set his pelt on fire. It was dazzling. Then Firepaw looked into sandpaw's eyes, she hastily looked away while Dustpaw followed along, She and Dustpaw called at Firepaw a kittypet. At sunrise, Lionheart took Firepaw, Graypaw, and timid Ravenpaw along with massive boi Tigerclaw along to work on hunting.

Sandpaw was taken along with Whitestorm, and then a mouse was streaking past Sandpaw's paws and Firepaw rushed past it to get the mouse. Sandpaw cringed as he streaked past, but she couldn't help admiring the fiery pelt Firepaw had. Later she noticed that Firepaw and Graypaw and Ravenpaw sitting together and eating their prey, she heard something from Graypaw: "Hey Firepaw how was today?" Firepaw replied: "Greypaw, you were with me, how could you forget it you mouse-brain!" And he cuffed Graypaw's ear. But suddenly Graypaw says: "Hey you and Sandpaw have the same mentor together!"

Then Firepaw says: "you're not gonna say that I and Sandpaw are together, cause if you say it, I will rip your tail out and feed it to the fishes!!!" Then they play-fight. Sandpaw went back to the apprentice den and thought over the words that Graypaw said, She thought to herself:" I do not wanna be with that kittypet, I'll rather be with Dustpaw instead!" Then she drifted off to sleep. The next day Firepaw was poked by Graypaw, who was awake already and said: "get up we have hunting duty to do!" Firepaw shook himself awake but not before Sandpaw noticed that his emerald green eyes were staring at him, she quickly turns away from him and faced Dustpaw and slept.

Sandpaw was later awaked by Dustpaw and he said: "come on! we have patrol duty at sunhigh and it's almost that time!" She, Dustpaw, Mousefur, and Whitestorm padded to the entrance of the wall of ferns. After Sunhigh Firepaw, Ravenpaw, Graypaw was all padding back with each 2 pieces of prey and tails high. Even Dustpaw had no insult at those three and Sandpaw went up to them and meowed a good job to you. And looking at those emerald green eyes.

Firepaw pov:

I and my friends were just coming back when Sandpaw meowed a good job and I and her stared at each other for a few seconds, Grawpaw and Ravenpaw's snickers shook me out of my reverie and I looked away. I glared at them and the snickers ceased and they looked a bit abashed. Sandpaw immediately look away and spat out: "kittypet!" And she walked away to Dustpaw and he glared at Firepaw and then started to talk to Sandpaw, then the snickers came back again and he whirled around and cuffed both of his friends around the ears. Firepaw saw that Ravenpaw had a scratch and he suggested that he go to spottedleaf and bid him goodbye and went out to hunt with Graypaw.

Sandpaw pov:

After that debacle, I went to Dustpaw and talked to him and taunted Firepaw about his hunting skills and his battle skills until Whitestorm told them to pipe down or they'll get a tick duty. I went to bed and tossed and turned and thought about Firepaw.

(So hey guys this is my first one so tell me anything I should add and thx and I have to go bye!)

life as an apprentice

Chapter 2:

Hey guys, since there's a holiday, there will be a chapter per day till next Tuesday! yay, and then we go back to 1 chapter a week, possibly more..... Enjoy!

Firepaw pov:

After that embarrassing thing, Sandpaw whirled around and went to Dustpaw while he snarled at Firepaw, "kittypet!" Then he went into the apprentice den. It was a few moments before Graypaw's mew came in, " I think that Sandpaw may like you!" It was at that moment that I pounced at him and I and Graypaw started a play-fight. Ravenpaw, always so shy, didn't join in and he too went to the apprentice den and didn't come out before I and Graypaw finished our play-fight. Then we three went out to hunt for the clan.

Sandpaw pov:

As I went into the apprentice den, I heard my friend Dustpaw yell "kittypet!" to Firepaw, I felt a bit of twinge as I heard the name, I subsequently pushed it back down and went to sleep. It was just a few minutes when I peeked my eyes open just to see Firepaw and his friends going out, I thought, "I should spy on them to hear what they do!" I slinked out and followed them, as I followed them, I heard, "where do you wanna go hunting?" Said Graypaw, "let's go to the great sycamore, there's been loads of prey lately!" Said Firepaw, I saw his fiery pelt, and that took my breath away, and then I snapped a branch, they froze.

Firepaw pov:

We suddenly heard a branch snap, we froze, then whirled around to see the culprit, nothing... Graypaw meowed, "Let's just go hunting, shall we?" I and Ravenpaw agreed that. And we left more the Great Sycamore. I couldn't help wondering that someone was following us. Soon we were coming back with our jaws holding at least 3 pieces of prey or more. Everybody was looking hopefully at the prey we were carrying.

Even Tigerclaw and his cronies had no insults to throw. But that was not all, Whitestorm came up and asked, "Have you seen Sandpaw, she disappeared earlier this morning?" Then suddenly, Sandpaw came up and said, "I'm here, Whitestorm!" and looked at Firepaw sheepishly. I suddenly remembered something.

Sandpaw pov:

I was following them and admiring their hunting skills when suddenly, I was spotted by Firepaw, and he told: "come out Sandpaw, we know you're there!" Knowing that I was caught red-handed, I came out, and they asked me: "Why are you spying on us?", I said truthfully: " I was spying on you guys." and I looked sheepishly to Firepaw. Then suddenly, he froze, and yowled, : " Badgers!"

And I whirled around and saw a lumbering Badger and came for me. I thought, "well I'm gonna be ripped to shreds, might as well fight!" But suddenly I saw a flash of orange streak past me, "Firepaw!" And he, Graypaw, Ravenpaw tore at the Badger while I looked stunned, then the Badger swiped at Firepaw and missed, though taking a few pieces of fur. Then the Badger left, wounded.

Then Graypaw and Ravenpaw came to him and said, "Are you okay?" He got up and said, "I'm okay, only a few scratches, most of the blood are from the Badger! Then he got up and left. I got up too and followed suit, I heard Whitestorm asking Firepaw where was I, and I came and said, " I'm here, Whitestorm!" And I looked at Firepaw.

Hi guys! I managed to get a chapter today! yay, the next chapter is coming tomorrow! (I hope)

Bye!

The Gathering

[image]

Firepaw pov:

Whitestorm noticed my scratches and said: "Go to the medicine cat to see those scratches you have." As I went to Spottedleaf, I heard Whitestorm say to Sandpaw: "Sandpaw, why were you outside the camp?" No one noticed you and we wouldn't have Badger attack on one of the apprentices!" And Sandpaw said: "Well I'm sorry about that Whitestorm!" Then I went inside to take a nap.

Until I was woken up by Tigerclaw, who said: " Get up Firepaw!, Bluestar wants to see you!" And I said: " Yes Tigerclaw!" And I got up and went to Bluestar's den. And Bluestar said: "Come in Firepaw!" And I entered, and Bluestar said that I was allowed to go to the Gathering with Graypaw and Ravenpaw. I was giddy and thanked Bluestar and raced out to tell Graypaw and Ravenpaw. And we told Sandpaw and Dustpaw about our luck and boy they were mad!

Sandpaw pov:

I and Dustpaw were sharing tongues when Firepaw and his friends came up and said that they were going to the gathering while Graypaw told us to have fun at camp! We spat at them while they ran to get ready for the gathering. I couldn't stop thinking that Firepaw distracted that Badger and taking little to no damage. That twinge came again, longer and much stronger.

Firepaw pov:

After that fun moment, we got some prey and ate it to prepare for the journey to the gathering, We were also laughing at Sandpaw and Dustpaw's incredulous expressions when we told them that. Then it was about to be night, so we got up and walked to the place of gathering, "I never knew that there were so many cats!" said Ravenpaw, "of course, there are, silly!" said Graypaw, and cuffs Ravenpaw in the ear. Then the Leaders yowled for silence and the gathering to begin. All the leaders went, all but Bluestar, then she said: " we have a new apprentice, "Firepaw!"

Sandpaw pov:

As I heard the cats selected to go to the gathering, I decided that I'll wait for the cats to come back. As I was waiting I asked to myself: " why do I have a twinge every time I see Firepaw? "NO NO NO! I will not have any feeling for that kittypet! But can you stop it?" asked another voice in my head, Then the gathering cats came back with Bluestar in the lead followed by Redtail, Whitestorm, and a few more, after that, Firepaw and his friends. I had another twinge when I looked at Firepaw. "Why do I have these twinges when I see Firepaw?"

Well I might as well go back to bed and prepare for sunrise. And I went to bed with Dustpaw and a few minutes later, Firepaw came in with Ravenpaw, Graypaw and they too went to sleep. At sunrise I got up to groom myself while Firepaw got up and went out of the den, then I heard the warrior, Whitestorm say, Firepaw, you and Graypaw, Ravenpaw are to take a assessment to catch prey, I'll watch over all three of you guys.

Firepaw pov:

I got up while my friends were still sleeping away, Whitestorm came up and told me that me and Graypaw, Ravenpaw is to take an assessment, I woke up Graypaw, Ravenpaw, and told them that: "we have an assessment to catch prey and we'll split up to different areas we all to be all alone and since it's Greenleaf, we should get at least 3 pieces of prey or more" I bid them good luck and set out to catch some prey.

(hello guys I've been keeping my promise and though it's a bit hard, it's fun! My best of wishes to Louisiana, which has been a hurricane magnet, and is about to face Hurricane Delta, best of luck to them and I wish them a speedy recovery)

Warriors

[image]

Firepaw pov:

As I was hunting for prey when I smelled a thrush and it was a big one! I crouched down and waited for it to come down, then it did, and I slinked toward it and wham! I killed it. And I thanked Starclan for letting me catch this prey. And I buried the prey and went on to catch some more prey. After sunhigh, I caught about 3 more pieces of prey and I went to get the thrush and went to the camp and waited for my friends to come. Soon they came too with 4 pieces of prey each and we all deposited them and waited. Whitestorm came up and told us: "Great job you three!" And he beckoned us with his tail to Bluestar's den and She told us "That you will become warriors in the evening." Then she told us that Mistytail, a Thunderclan queen who is expecting Blazestorm's kits have just kitted and you should go and visit them. We thanked her and went to see Mistytail's kits who were Silverkit, Yellowkit, and Blackkit. (all are she-kits) And we prepared for our warrior ceremony.

Sandpaw pov:

As I watched Firepaw and his friends walked out, tails high, I had another twinge again when I see Firepaw. And suddenly I had a dream where me and Firepaw, walking together then I shoved it down but, it's starting to fill up, I suspect something, do I have a crush on Firepaw? I don't know but I think that I should tell him that when he's alone, but that'll be a challenge though. Then Dustpaw bumps into me and says: " Why do you have a moony look in your eyes?"

I snapped out and said: " No I don't you daft furball!" And I whirled around and went out with Dustpaw having a confused look in his eyes. As I was walking out, I was thinking of Firepaw more and more steadily, that was in my mind as I hunted for prey, and as I was walking back, Bluestar yowled, : "Let all cats who can hunt their own prey gather around for a meeting!"

Firepaw pov:

As Bluestar yowled we went to the great rock and waited, Bluestar asked lionheart if Graypaw was ready to become a warrior, Lionheart replied: "yes he is." Then He asked Tigerclaw if Ravenpaw was ready, Tigerclaw to replied yes, then She said herself that Firepaw was ready too, and asked us if we were to do everything and sacrifice for our clan. We all replied with an touch of excitement, "yes we are!" And she said, "Starclan, these cats are ready to become warriors I beg you to look after them. Graypaw your name henceforth is called Graystripe, Ravenpaw, your name will be Raventail, and Firepaw, you shall become Fireheart!" said Bluestar.

And the whole clan yowled our names. Then Bluestar waved her tail for silence and meowed that these new warriors shall keep vigil and no talking was allowed. And she said: "Dismissed!" And everybody dispersed about, going back to work on whatever they do. Nightfall came fast, and we stood there warm in the Greenleaf and proud of our new names.

Sandpaw pov:

As we watched the ceremony I saw a bit of pride flare up in Firepaw's eyes and relaxed at the sight of those eyes. Then Bluestar dismissed us to go do their stuff, and soon nightfall came in and I slept but without Dustpaw because he was starting to get really annoying that I starting to hate it. Then I saw Firepaw and I sighed at the fiery pelt he had.

Hi guys, a chapter a day is starting to get on me, so I'll be doing 1 chapter in the weekend but after that, in the 2 day holiday, I'll go back to a chapter a day, you know what to do, vote, view, and comment!

thanks guys

bye!

P.S. I'll try to write a chapter a day though ;)

Time for a nice battle!

(in my timeline, Ravenpaw stayed in Thunderclan and became Raventail :)

Fireheart pov:

Nightfall now settled and me, Raventail, Graystripe sat vigil, guarding the clan and not speaking a word, but the gleam in our eyes was more than we can tell, we were immensely proud of us becoming warriors. At moon-high, I detected an unfamiliar scent, but I could tell there was shadowclan beneath the stench, the look on Graystripe, and Raventail. They could smell it too, then I motioned that I'll notify Bluestar. Then suddenly the bushes exploded, and Raventail and Graystripe fended them while I yowled, "Rouges!" And without looking, I rushed back to the battle and found a rouge with a tail that was broken, it was Brokenstar, or at least Brokentail.

I sprang at him and tussled, while the rest of the clan rushed to our aid, and they too fought the rouges. But I saw Sandpaw, about to be ripped to shreds by two rouges that were at least twice the size of her, I shook Brokentail off and rushed to her and ripped one-off, but not before he ripped my belly, a thunderous pain shook me but I still continued, Sandpaw looked around and blushed and said: " Thanks Fireheart." And I said: " No problem" before everything went dark.

Sandpaw pov:

It's a peaceful one, well until Fireheart's yowl "Rouges!" rang out and I prodded the rest awake and raced to Fireheart and his friends, they were already heavily bleeding due to the fact they were outnumbered, then all of us rushed to help them and the tide slowly turned against them. I saw Brokenstar/tail fighting Fireheart. But then two rouges one with a face that was heavily scarred and one a massive gray tabby approach me, and I was thinking that I was about to be ripped up to shreds by these hulking rouges, then suddenly Fireheart came up and got one off from me while I bit the other rouges tail hard and he ran away. And a few seconds later, I saw the other rouge run off and I saw Fireheart battered and having massive slices and was dripping at an alarming rate, I said: " Thanks" while I probably had a blush and he replied: " No problem."

Then he collapsed and I took him by the scruff and Raventail and Graystripe scratched and bleeding but not as heavily as Fireheart helped me carry him and took him to Spottedleaf, she went to work immediately but not fast enough to staunch the flow of blood fast enough, and she murmured: " Fireheart is the cat of the prophecy, we have to save him" And she told us to leave while she worked on him.

Fireheart pov:

I started to regain my senses and cracked my eyes open, Graystripe, Raventail was watching me saw my eyes open and said: " well it took you long enough to wake up, from the losses of blood, we thought you were a goner!" I weakly replied: " How long was I out?" well, "you were out for a week, it was touch-and-go but we got you in the end!" Inside me, I was astonished that I was out for a week, Oh yeah! Graystripe said Sandpaw wanted to see you while he and Raventail snickered and left and I heard that she was allowed. Then she came in with her muzzle blushing and sat down, "Thanks for saving me, I didn't know those wounds would knock you out for a week!" she said, well we save a clanmate though, I replied, I tried to get up but was pushed down by Spottedleaf, who said, " Don't get up, you don't want to reopen those wounds!"

I asked her, Can I see Bluestar? She said: " I'll get her" and left, "why do you want to see Bluestar?" She asked, well, I saw you and Dustpaw really bring it down on those rouges! I replied back, And Bluestar came in and asked " What is it Fireheart? The whole clan thought you were dead!" Well I'm alive, aren't I? I joked, "okay tell me what you really want?" said Bluestar. Well I saw that Sandpaw and Dustpaw fighting really well as I said that, Sandpaw's eyes widened, well, they did and they are indeed to become warriors, I'll alert the clan. "Let all cats who can catch their own prey gather around!"

She yowled, "Dustpaw, Sandpaw you two come forward", She meowed "Whitstorm, is Sandpaw ready to become a warrior? Yes, she is, replied Whitestorm, Redtail, is Dustpaw ready to become a warrior? Yes, he is Bluestar, meowed Redtail" "Then by the powers of Starclan are you two ready to sacrifice anything and everything for your clan?" Said Bluestar, they both replied yes, "Then you, Sandpaw, you henceforth shall become Sandstorm, and you Dustpaw, you will become Dustpelt, and you shall sit vigil" said Bluestar and the clan yowled their names.

Somehow I wrote 2 chapters in one day yay for me ;)

you know the thing:

A nice little crush

[image]

Sandstorm pov:

As the clan yowled our names, I saw Fireheart give an approving nod and I mouthed thanks in return. And then we prepared for our vigil, Dustpelt came up and nudged me and said: " Hey, we're warriors now! Aren't you happy?" "Of course I am!" I replied back, and I replied, I need to get something and I'll come back. Where I was heading? To the Medicine den, I knew what I was gonna tell, but I'm not sure that Fireheart will accept it due to the fact that I too taunted him in the beginning.

But I was itching to tell, and plus, the earlier, the better, I trotted up to the medicine den and saw Fireheart, taking a doze. (In my timeline, Spottedleaf never liked Fireheart, makes thing easier) And I went up to him and prodded him awake, and he awoke slowly and looked up to me and said in a groggy voice: "Sandstorm? What do you need me for?" I paused, unable to remember what to say, then Fireheart said: " What is it?" Then I said out loud rapidly: " I like you " And I ran out fast.

Fireheart pov:

Sandstorm said something rapidly and ran out very fast. I was a bit puzzled, I only heard the word "like" but nothing else, "Did Sandstorm just run out?" said Graystripe, "Fireheart?" said Raventail, "I'm over here guys" I replied back, "Was Sandstorm saying something to you?" Snickered Graystripe, I beckoned them over and told them what Sandstorm said, "So you only heard the word like?"

hmmm, I replied back, what could that mean? "Are you a mouse-brain?" retorted Graystripe, "It can only mean one thing", meowed Raventail, "She likes you!" Graystripe and Raventail replied in unison. I felt something hot crash over me, "Sandstorm, likes me?" I thought to myself before I can stop my meow, I said: "Well, Sandstorm is pretty." And the gleeful faces told me that. "Well, after I'm out and about, I guess I can tell her about my feelings too," I replied with a wave of embarrassment go over me. And as nightfall came I sighed and prepared to go get ready to sleep. As nightfall settled around I slept thinking about Sandstorm.

Sandstorm pov:

As I and Dustpelt sat vigil, my insides were squirming about what I said to Fireheart, maybe I should ask Bluestar that I can hunt with Fireheart after he recovered. But for now, I need to keep vigil with Dustpelt, as I sat there, guarding the camp, and I was daydreaming about Fireheart. At Midnight, I was starting to shiver due to the fact that greenleaf was starting to wane, and leaf-fall was just about to begin. Around Dawn, I was about to fall asleep when Redtail came up and said: "You too, you're allowed to talk now" (If you didn't know Redtail is Sandstorm's father) And I stretched, yawning and about to go to sleep when I saw Fireheart, coming out of the den and talking to Graystripe and Raventail. I felt a rush of love when I saw his muscles rippling and his fiery pelt.

Then I went to my den and collapsed into my soft nest and slept like a Badger.

Fireheart pov:

I saw Sandstorm and Dustpelt coming back, Fernpaw, rushed up and nuzzled Dustpelt and they two went to get a piece of fresh-kill. I wondered to myself, would that happen to me and Sandstorm? Only time would tell, besides, I'm all fit again, and I hope I'll be getting Cloudkit, one of Brindleface's kit. And I trotted up to Sandstorm and said something.

love

Sandstorm pov:

I was grooming myself, Fireheart came up and said: "Hey Sandstorm, you wanna go hunting" Sure! I replied back and I went to ask Redtail that if I can go hunt with Fireheart, Redtail agreed with a hint of amusement in his eyes. I told Fireheart that we were allowed and me and him went hunting. As we were hunting, I smelled mice and dropped to a hunter's crouch immediately, Fireheart wispered that he'll drive to me and I'll catch it and he went of. As I waited, I replayed the confession I said to Fireheart, " Did he hear what I said at all? " I asked myself. Then suddenly I heard Fireheart's yowl, and I snapped out of it and catched the mouse. Fireheart came up to me and said: "Good job! Now let's bury it for later and let's hunt for more." I buried it and we went our way.

As we were walking, I stepped on a thorn and yowled in pain. And Fireheart came rushing up and asked me if I was okay, I replied with a yes. Then he saw the thorn and gently pulled it out and licked my bleeding paws to stop the flow of blood, a small purr started and before long, a loud purr was coming out of me, Fireheart, too was purring while he licked my paws. I said to hm: " Fireheart, I want to tell you something." "hmm?" he replied back. I perpared my words and said: "Fireheart, I couldn't hold it anymore, I love you."

Fireheart pov:

Sandstorm said: "Fireheart, I couldn't hold it anymore, I love you." I processed the words, and then I purred in return and said: "Well, I have to say, I love you too" And then she nudged her head in to my chest fur. I was shocked by it for only a second, then I started to lick her ears. And it was just the two of us embraced in the love of each other, then I pulled out and said: "We should continue hunting you know." She gave a nod while her eyes shined with the love, we went hunting, but with our tails entwined together.

After sometime, we were coming back with 3 mices, 2 birds. We went to the fresh-kill, then, Cloudkit, came running up and said: "Fireheart! Did you and Sandstorm catch all of these prey!?!" I replied with a purr in my throat: "Yes we did, Cloudkit, you should take a mice to Patchpelt, he might tell you a story worth of it." Cloudkit meowed a yes with enthusiasm clearly in his voice. So he took a mice and carried while stumbling to the elder den. Sandstorm meowed with amusement in her voice: "Well, he's already 5 and a half moons old, he should be getting his apprenticeship soon. I replied: "Yeah, he's getting way too big for the nursery den, I kinda hope he'll become my apprentice, but it's Bluestar's choice."

Hello, guys I can't write that much because I'm a bit too tired, Sorry for the 500 word I wrote, I try to write more in the future!

Sandstorm pov:

As I and Fireheart walked toward the camp, Tigerclaw came up and told Fireheart that Redtail told him that he and Fireheart should hunt alone. Now I knew that Tigerclaw hated Fireheart, so Tigerclaw is acting sus. They left, I decided that I should follow them and see what are they gonna do. As I followed them, Fireheart asked Tigerclaw: "What are we doing Tigerclaw?" I can hear a bit of contempt in Tigerclaw's voice when he said: "Today you shall die!" And Tigerclaw leaped at Fireheart. I was shocked, but then I sprang at Tigerclaw, Tigerclaw was a bit surprised when he saw me. Tigerclaw sliced Fireheart's side open and then ran away.

I rushed to Fireheart while his blood dripped, I got his scruff and dragged him. When we came in to the camp, shocking mews came and Spottedleaf came up and got him to the medicine cat den. I waited until Bluestar came up and demanded to me who attacked Fireheart, I replied Tigerclaw. And to top it off, there were a few strands of Tigerclaw's fur on him. So Bluestar called a clan meeting and beckoned Tigerclaw to come forward, "Tigerclaw, you have attacked Fireheart, do you have anything to say?" Tigerclaw denied it, then we brought in the proof. The few strands of his fur and my witness was all they needed. Before Bluestar said anything, the whole clan rushed at Tigerclaw and killed him.

Fireheart pov:

I only remember Tigerclaw jumping on me, then I woke up at the medicine den and saw a horrible yowl and was ended by a gurgling noise. I raised my head and saw Tigerclaw, dead. Then Spottedleafcame up and said: "Sandstorm wants to see you." Sandstorm then came up and sat down with me and licked me till I said: "Sandstorm, I love you." Sandstorm replied back: "I love you too." Then Sandstorm laid down with me and we slept together. In the morning, Sandstorm was prodding me with her paw and saying: "Wake up! sleepy head!" I got up slowly and we shared the rabbit together. It was just the beginning of leaf-bare when Bluestar yowled a meeting, she sadly announced that Redtail is retiring from deputyship and she announced that Lionheart shall become the new Deputy.

After that I slept until Spottedleaf informed me that I was clear to go back to the warriors den after I get a vole to eat. As I ate it, Bluestar again called a meeting and said that Cloudkit shall become Fireheart's apprentice, Cinderkit became Spottedleaf's medicine cat apprentice, Rainkit became Longtail's apprentice, and finally Brackenkit became Graystripe's apprentice. After that I went to the warriors den and slept. In the morning, I took Cloudpaw and Graystripe tagged along with Brackenpaw and we toured the Thunderclan territory. After that, we had a hunting lesson and Cloudpaw was a natural tracker, though his hunting skills need much practice! Then we went back and ate prey and then we went to sleep.

Tigerclaw reborn

Sandstorm pov:

As I was patrolling with Raventail and Graystripe, I saw Grasspelt, a new Shadowclan warrior, she rushed up and with great difficulty, "There was a coup d'etat Raggedstar is killed by that filthy rouge, Brokentail, he exiled me. Can you guys please take me in?" I told her that we should tell Bluestar about this new turn of event. So we took her to Bluestar and with wide eyes, told Bluestar. Bluestar immediately called a clan meeting and told the rest of the clan of this new horrifying turn of events. Fireheart limped up and said: "Brokentail only has few followers. How come he can kill a leader in one swipe?" The rest murmered agreement with him. "That we don't know." replied Bluestar somberly. And after that, the clan dispersed. Goldenflower, a she-cat who just arrived in the nursery asked me: "Will the clan see Tigerstar in these kits?" I replied back: "Yes, but if they work hard enough, they'll forget that Tigerstar does not pass down what ambition into those kits." And I left.

As I was sharing tongues with Fireheart, Dustpelt came up and said: "Uhh, Sandstorm? I just wanna say that I like Fernpaw more than you." I told him back that I already knew that, but I too like Fireheart. And that was it, Later Fernpaw was named Ferncloud and a gathering loomed into view. By that time, Fireheart was already about and conversing with Raventail and Graystripe about the coup d'etat, I joined in at times, but I was too embarrassed for them to see me and Fireheart close to each other. I was out hunting when Fireheart came up and asked me something that I'll never forget in my entire life, "Sandstorm? he asked, do you want to be mates?" Fireheart asked in a small voice. I immediately replied with a yes, and I nosed my way into his comforting chest fur. It could've been like this until Fireheart whispered that we should head back.

Fireheart pov:

I asked Sandstorm to be my mate and I was shocked by how fast she agreed and she nudged her head into my chest fur and a sense of warmth went through me and I started purring. But then a familiar sneering voice: "How cute! The kittypet fouund a wittle bittle fwiend!" I whipped around and saw Brokentail, and Tigerclaw steps up. followed by Mapleshade, and they attacked, we tried to fend for our selves but we had to run. Luckily they didn't chase us and we suffered a few slashes and that was it. We went to Spottedleaf and Bluestar came up and demanded that what were we doing. I told that Tigerclaw and Brokentail and Mapleshade attacked us. Bluestar told us to not utter anything about them. "The clan is not ready." She explained.

We were recovering when Sandstorm came and told me something. "Fireheart?" she asked, "I'm expecting kits."

Shadowclan is token over

[image]

Sandstorm pov:

What I told Fireheart must've knocked him out for a few hours. But by that time Tigerstar, now came up and demanded that Thunderclan must give up its territory or join Shadowclan. Of course, Bluestar refused and a battle ensued, Lionheart was killed by the new deputy, Brokentail, and we did drive them off, but not without losing Archeye, Ashtail, and Aspenfall, Bluestar lost a life, and no one knows, she is on her 7th life. Bluestar quickly announced the words for a new deputy and to the clan's astonishment, Fireheart was the new deputy. Fireheart also announced that I was expecting kits and they drove me to the nursery den. Fireheart was already immensely popular and has a new apprentice called Bramblepaw.

By next morning, the camp was back to normal-ish, I have been in the nursery for less than 5 moons already. Fireheart sometimes visits me. Everybody was suspecting since I and Fireheart were so close to each other, that attracted sniggers and gossip, so no one was surprised that I was expecting Fireheart's kits. Today we prepared for the vigil of Lionheart, Archeye, Ashtail, and Aspenfall. As I was lolling around, basking in the sun, Tallstar, the leader of Windclan, came up and discussed Shadowclan. Soon, they were nodding and looked a bit happy. Bluestar then announced that Windclan has offered an alliance against the troubling Shadowclan.

Fireheart pov:

Tallstar came up and we were discussing Shadowclan new ambitions, then he struck up an offer for an alliance between Windclan and Thunderclan. Bluestar looked a bit happy, but then she said that she'll discuss it with the clan and Tallstar left. Bluestar then announced it and most of the clan voted yes but Darkstripe was the only one to say no. So it brought scathing looks from the rest of the clan to him. So that was over I came up to Sandstorm, she purred at the sight of me coming to her. I asked her: "How are you doing?" "Fine", she replied, "It's just that it's weird trying to move, "I'll get you something to eat" I nuzzled her and went to the fresh-kill pile, it was half-full, "Hmmph, I need to do hunting patrols," I told myself, Whitestorm, Ferncloud, Dustpelt, and Brakenfur, you'll do a hunting patrol, and I did others. Then I took the rabbit to Sandstorm.

As the Thunderclan patrol left, He laughed, he told Tigerstar that: "Thunderclan is foolish, they will be destroyed soon, but not now, let's head back." And they left for their Thunderclan camp.

As night fell, Shadowclan Elders trudged with Yellowfang, they were almost to the Thunderclan border when Fireheart saw them with Cloudtail and Sandstorm. They escorted them to Bluestar, they were took in, as that was happening, Brokentail and his elite warriors raided Windclan and succeded inflicting heavy wounds on some of the warriors, no one was dead, and no kits were stolen.

Windclan

[image]

I am Tallstar, leader of Windclan, just a few sunrises ago, Shadowclan warriors treacherously launched an attack on us. They may be few, but they make up in skills. My deputy, Deadfoot, was the cat who took the most wounds, he is still alive, but that's in the paws of Windclan. As the clan moved about, another attack, larger, hit the Windclan like a stab of lighting, this time, they were driven out. "What are we gonna become!" Furzetail yowled. "I don't know," Tallstar replied wearily. "We need to go to a place where there's a moor, set camp, and forget the clans," Deadfoot replied weakly. And they continued to trudge to an unknown world.

Back at the Thunderclan camp, Flailclaw suddenly burst out and Fireheart came up and demanded what happened. "Sha-Shadow-Shadowclan drove us out!" "What!?!?" Fireheart yelled, and Bluestar came out and Fireheart told her of what happened, Sandstorm also came up and murmured to Fireheart. "Flailclaw, where is Windclan going?" "I don't know he gasped." Spottedleaf and Cinderpaw came up and took Flaiclaw to the den and placed herbs to heal him.

Fireheart pov:

After Flailclaw was guided to the medicine den, I decided to amp up the border patrols and the hunting patrols. They followed without question. I went to Sandstorm, who was in the nursery for already 3 moons and expected to give birth in about 3 sunrises. I went up to her when she saw me and started to purr, I dropped a vole and watch her eat. After she was done, we were discussing Shadowclan and the future of us and our kits. Then I got up and went to a patrol to bring back fresh-kill. A gathering was looming into view, I of course was selected along with Graystripe, Raventail, Cloudmist, Beetlewhisker, Spottedleaf, Cinderpaw, Cloudtail, and Bluestar.

At the gathering, Shadowclan and Windclan were absent. So we and Riverclan started it, we all agreed that we need Windclan, they each agreed to take 3 warriors each, for Thuderclan, Me, Graystripe, and Raventail. For Riverclan, Heavystep, Lakestorm, and Mistpelt. We immediately set off.

Sandstorm pov:

As I watched Fireheart race off, I worried about him due to the fact that the dangers were unknown. I padded back to my den and rested. For a few sunrises, Fireheart was not present, so Dustpelt had to take the deputy duties. Then, I was suddenly in total agony, "Spottedleaf!" I yowled, "The kits are coming!" They ran up and told Brakenfur to grab a stick for me to grip it, then the first one came, "It's a tom" she said, I looked up and saw him, he looked just like Fireheart. Then the second one and the third, and finally, the fourth, the first and the second were toms, and the others were she-cats. Exhausted I collapsed and slept and slept.

the adventure begins

Fireheart pov:

As we were walking, I was noticing Graystripe and Mistpelt getting much closer than usual, so I padded up to them, Graystripe came to me and said: "Hey Fireheart! Should we hunt for a bit?" I was taken aback, but I agreed to them hunting, not surprisingly, Mistpelt and Graystripe went together. I decided to follow them, I heard Mistpelt saying: "Oh Graystripe, I love you!" Graystripe purred in return. I came up and demanded to Graystripe: "In what Starclan's name are you doing!" Graystripe mumbled: "I can't help it and neither Mistpelt." I whirled around and went off, I was shocked at how those two fell in love so fast, I hunted and thought about Sandstorm, by now she'll probably give birth to our kits. I ignored Graystripe and we all went forward.

Sandstorm pov:

I watched my kits exploring the camp, aided by Bluestar herself, I knew she was getting old, she'll have to retire soon. I told the kits that they were the deputy's kits, they were excited about that, their names were Squirrelkit, Leafkit, Flamekit, and Rainkit. Flamekit is the tom, he looks a lot like Fireheart. As I watched them, they went into the warriors' den and got shooed out by a warrior, I went to them and scolded them for getting into the Warriors' ways. Then night fell and the clan slept.

I'm sorry.....

So sorry for a short chapter, I promise promise to make a longer one next time :)

Tigerstar's reign

[image]

Shadowclan is in ruins, terror became the norm in it. The Shadowclan elders have been banished, and when Tigerstar heard of the Windclan-Thunderclan alliance, they drove Windclan out. Now they plan an assault on the Riverclan-Thunderclan Patrol.

Runningnose pov:

Life in Shadowclan is terrible, all of those kits, were too young to fight in pointless battles and wars. Blood flowed from patients that I could do nothing to save them, queens wailing for their lost kits, what can we do, nothing... As I was gathering herbs, a scorching pain sprung up on my back, and I saw Brokentail attacking me, Tigerstar, who was a few tail-lengths away, did nothing. Knowing I was gonna die, I slipped out of Brokentail's grip and ran all the way to the Thunderclan border.

Bluestar pov:

Fireheart and his friends have been gone for a few moons now, little does he know, he has 4 beautiful kits, they are now 3 moons now, and are the only ones, for now, Ferncloud, Dustpelt's mate, is due in a moon or so. As I watched the clan, Beetlewhisker and Cloudtail were escorting Runningnose, who was heavily bleeding, and Spottedleaf immediately came up and took him to the medicine den. Cloudtail informed me that Brokentail had attacked him, and now Runningnose asks us for sanctuary. I immediately called a clan meeting and told them that should we let Runningnose stay here, Darkstripe again opposed this, Adderfang supported Darkstripe, due to the fact that Darkstripe was Adderfang's last apprentice.

Whitestorm and the rest agreed. And that was over.....

Tigerstar's pov:

I have Shadowclan in my hands, Brokentail, my faithful deputy has ripped Runningnose, and now that coward has run to Thunderclan, I'm a bit worried about Brokentail, he could kill me and take over anytime he wants. As I was watching the clan, Brokentail came up and asked me in a surprisingly polite way that can he attack Thunderclan, I refused, explaining that they have a Riverclan-Thunderclan alliance, "We are in the middle of those two." Brokentail then backed away. Then, I got up and went for the Riverclan border.....

Okay guys, what do you think will happen???

Return

[image]

Fireheart POV:

Now that I knew that Graystripe was in love with a Riverclan cat! It's forbidden by the warrior code to mate with someone from a another clan, it makes things complicated at times. At sunset, we prepared for another night outside the clans, when suddenly a dark fur rushed into me, I sputtered and realized it was Raventail, who thought it'll be funny if he ran into me, when I finally got up, he was already purring with amusement.

Then I sensed something, I spun around and saw Tallstar, who was leading his warriors and surrounded us, I realized how far we strayed away from the others. Tallstar asked suspiciously: "Why are you two doing here?" I hastily replied: "Tallstar, we have came to take you back to the clans." Tallstar seemed relieved, and ordered his clanmates to follow us back to the lands of the clans.

Raventail POV:

As we were heading back, the rest came dashing up and asked me that had we brought Windclan back without them helping, Graystripe as usual was talking to Mistpelt, something about those two makes me a bit uneasy. The Fireheart came and Windclan followed in. Fireheart came up to me and said: "Hey Raventail, let's start going back to the clans." I argued that it was already Midnight, "So we should sleep here, then go back." I said. Fireheart seemed convinced, and settled down for the night. I volunteered to stand guard for the night.

Throughout the night, I kept thinking about my own future, "Would I be alive long enough before I die cause of some wound or disease?

Would I have someone who I love and she loves me back? I mean, I had a small crush on Sandstorm for a little bit, but that's over. Later the rest of the clan woke up, as we were heading back, we stopped at Barley's barn to catch a mouse or two, due to the fact that it was LOADED with scrumptious mice.

I had a little nap, he he

Fireheart POV:

We were at Barley's place, that was when Tallstar came up and talked to me, "Thank you for bringing us back home, you guys will be remembered forever as long as Windclan lives. Embarrassed by this I muttered a thank you and Tallstar gathered up his clan to go back to the clans were, by now we can faintly scent the Thunderclan markings. Then we have arrived at the moor. We have returned back, with Windclan.

If you never knew, Tallstar had a kitty pet friend named Jake, and Fireheart, was Jake's son, and Tallstar knew that, so that's why he's much more friendly to Fireheart than usual

I am so sorry for the delays, but I will be writing daily now, hope this makes you guys happy, Let's get 550 views by the end of 2020!!!

A raging flood

[image]

Sandstorm pov:

All of a sudden it started to rain, and I mean rain! Within seconds I was drenched form returning from the fresh-kill pile, my kits are about 3 moons old and just started to eat real food, at first they hated it, then they started to appreciate it, Bluestar came out looking worried, she then saw a returning patrol and asked them what is happening, within a minute everybody was gathered around the highrock, Bluestar said that the river has burst it's banks and now it is in ingredients slowly towards us, I doubted it due to the fact that there was already water collecting outside the entrance, then Fireheart suddenly burst in and with wide eyes, he told the whole clan that the river is coming.

After realizing what he meant, everybody scrambled for the high ground in our territory. Bluestar helped me carry my kits, but then the river came crashing, everybody screeched in fear and ran, Bluestar was just putting down Flamekit next to Squirrelkit and Leafkit when I realized that Rainkit was still down there, I made to get him but Bluestar was faster, she dove in.

Fireheart POV:

Bluestar came up her mouth latched on to Rainkit, they both struggled while the rest of the clan watched horrified at it, Bluestar placed the kit on a easily reachable ledge but as she was climbing up to join Rainkit, she slipped, I immediately dove into the water trying to find Bluestar, I found her, but she didn't move, only until I got up into dry ground when she looked at me and said: "Fireheart, my time has come, you will now lead Thunderclan, you have the warmth and strength of a fire. Fire will save the clans." Gasping for breath she died.

Okay, I'm so sorry for this massive inactivity, I promise I will try to write daily from now

"You are now Firestar"

[image]

Fireheart pov:

I watched there stunned, then Sandstorm pressed close next to me, the sweet scent wreathed around me, Cinderpelt came up to me, Spottedleaf had died to a rouge attack a few moons from now, I learned this from Sandstorm. Cinderpelt looked soaked, but the eyes still blazed, she asked: "Fireheart, the flood has gone down, and we should get to the moonstone by moon high." I asked: "Alright then" We got the traveling herbs, which were still preserved. Then I got up and walked to the Moonstone.

Moonrise...

We were waiting for us to see the moon rise when it rose, we got inside and soon I couldn't see anything, remembering my journey to the moonstone when I was an apprentice. I saw the moonstone, then a ray of moonlight hit the stone, setting the stone awash in a ray of pale light. Cinderpelt beckoned me, I nodded and touched the stone, and waited for Starclan to arrive.

I was awake in a green field, I saw Bluestar walk up to me, she looked like when she was at her height of power. I blurted out: " I should've gone for you earlier." Bluestar looked at me and said gently: " It was my time to go, now it's your turn, 8 more cats arrived, Bluestar went first, "I give you courage, use it well in times of darkness." pain shot through me, countless battles rushed past me, then it was over. Redtail came next who died of old age, He touched my nose and said: "I give you loyalty, use it on your clanmates and family." Pain shot through me, but this time is much more tolerable. Spottedleaf came next: "I give you love, love your clan and protect them from any danger." Soothing me to the point where I felt sleepy. Next Runningwind came up, he said:" I give you tireless energy, use it to serve your clan well." I felt as if I can run around the territories and would want to run again. Thunderstar, the first leader of Thunderclan, I was in awe of him, he touched my nose and said: "I give you mentoring, use it on your apprentices." He then returned back, Goosefeather came up and said: "I give you compassion, use it for the weaker ones and defend them until your last breath." He then turned back and retreated to the group. Gray wing the wise came up next, " I give you wisdom, use it when right and wrong is uncertain." He said. Lastly, Lionheart came up and said: "I give you Justice, use it to treat your clanmates fairly." Bluestar said: "You are now Firestar, your past life is now over, and a new one dawns." They all yowled: "FIRESTAR!!" And then it was over.

Epilogue

As the clan went to a moonlit clearing with 4 trees bathed in moonlight, Firestar in the lead, a moon had passed since the flood, but it was still vivid in his memories, but he pushed it out of his mind as they went to join, plus there was no gathering, there were murmurs of a surprise when they saw Firestar leading the clan. Mistyfoot was temporaily filling in for Leopardstar, As Firestar got up, Tallstar asked: "Fireheart, where's Bluestar?" Firestar replied with a note of sadness: "Bluestar died saving one of the kits of Thunderclan, I have recieved my 9 lives and now lead Thunderclan." There was a long murmer of sadness. "But," Firestar said, "we are strong and will face any threats to our clan. If you think we are weak, then you are very wrong!" After that the rest of the clans said what they have to say, and the gathering came to an end.

Time skip.....

As they were walking home, Sandstorm murmered to Firestar: "Can we face anything in our path?" Firestar replied: "The rise of a new era will bring new challenges, yes, but we are ready to face them."
